The craziest Icebars in Europe

Europe is a treasure trove of unique experiences, rich culture, and architectural wonders. It's also where travelers get to encounter some crazy experiences. While enjoying drinks and alcohol is pretty much a staple for any kind of travel, Europe takes it a step further by sticking travelers in a room made of ice.

It might sound crazy, but these below zero bars are beautiful, enchanting, and just downright cool. You can even bring your kids!

Xtracold Amsterdam Icebar is one of the coolest place you will find in Amsterdam. You enter a nice and warm lounge where you can sit and relax in good company. It's a full-service bar where you can already start enjoying unique cocktails. Towards the back, another door leads you to the actual icebar.

The icebar is kept at -10 C (14 F), but guests are given a thermal coat to keep them warm. Sixty tons of ice make up the entire bar, with every inch of space and furniture are made out of ice.

Tickets include free drinks both at the lounge and at the icebar area.
